Art Unit: 3781

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the storage pocket along with storing of the handtruck in claim 17 and the reinforcement in claim 18 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. Claims 1, and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 3012425. JP '425 teaches a baggage having a hand truck with a base and a frame, a container having a compartment for receiving the frame of the hand truck.

3. Claim 3, 4, and 7-13, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP'425 in view of Dischler. Dischler teaches that it is known in the art to provide attachment flaps comprise of two flaps 24, 26. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the two flaps to provide an alternative attachment means.

Regarding claim 4, note the zipper at 13.

Regarding claim 18, note the reinforcement at the back panel in Fig. 9. (there is one panel between portion 15A and 1) being reinforced as claimed.

4. Claims 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP'425 in view of Dischler rejection, as set forth above, and further in view of Hoops (4003508) or Chuo (20040188201). Hoops teaches that it is known in the art to provide attachment pocket having trapezoidal shape at 30. Similarly, Chuo teaches that it is known in the art to provide attachment pocket having trapezoidal shape. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the pocket having trapezoidal shape as taught by either Hoops or Chuo to provide the desired shape of the attachment flaps.

5. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP'425 in view of Dischler rejection, as set forth above, and further in view of Shamah (5664652). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a container that can be folded and maintain in folded condition by zipper at 30 and 32 to provide an alternative type of luggage and enable on to adjust the volume of the luggage.

Regarding claim 17, the truck in Fig. 3 of JP'425 can be folded and store in the storage compartment in Shamah.

6. Claims 1, and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hafif (20040238303 with provisional 60/473966). Hafif teaches a baggage assembly having a container and a compartment with a compartment for receiving the frame.

Art Unit: 3781

7. Claims 3-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hafif in view of Dischler. Dischler teaches that it is known in the art to provide attachment flaps comprise of two flaps 24, 26. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the two flaps to provide an alternative attachment means.

8. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hafif rejection, as set forth in paragraph 7, and further in view of Chuo(20040188201). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a rectangular bag to provide the desired shape of the carrying device.
